

Media Workers Against the War
University of Westminster
Thursday 10 April at 7pm

With NICK DAVIES investigative reporter and author of Flat Earth News

And DAHR JAMAIL
independent journalist
in Iraq

IRAQ 5 YEARS ON HOW THE MEDIA
SELLS WAR, AND WHY

Tickets: £5 / £3

IRAQ 5 YEARS ON: HOW THE MEDIA SELLS WAR AND WHY

Hosted by Media Workers Against the War Thursday 10 April 2008 7pm

NICK DAVIES award-winning Guardian journalist and author of Flat Earth News

DAHR JAMAIL independent journalist in Iraq, author of Beyond the Green Zone

KIM SENGUPTA defence and diplomatic correspondent, the Independent

LINDSEY GERMAN national convenor, Stop the War Coalition

On April 9, 2003, Baghdad fell to US troops and Saddam's statue was toppled. The event was welcomed by a torrent of positive media coverage. Five years on, we have to ask: why did the media get it so wrong? How can we avoid similar mistakes in the future? How is current coverage of the "war on terror" to be judged?

The Old Lecture Theatre, University of Westminster

309 Regent Street, London W1B 2UW 1 minute from Oxford Circus

Tickets: £5 / £3 Buy securely on line at www.mwaw.net

For more information, email info@mwaw.net